- Financial agreements

The participating partners agree to the following engagements:

Fees

The fees for each musician are:

€ 75,00 per rehearsal day (a total of 375,00 EUR for five days)

€ 150,00 per concert (a total of 1200,00 EUR for 8 concerts)

Each partner pays the fee of the musician he delegates to the project for all the concerts this musicians plays. Each partner is responsible for the follow-up of the payment of the musician he proposed for the project. If there's a second concert in one off the countries, every partner can send an invoice for his musician to the partner in that country.

The fee for the coaching and artistic direction of the bandleader is 4000,00 EUR in total. This amount will be split equally between all partners (667,00 EUR all-in for each partner).

When the artistic leader takes part in the concert, his fee will be 500,00 EUR in total. This fee is to be paid by the hosting partner. If the hosting partner books another band of Sclavis (double bili), the fee of Sclavis in the Criss Cross band will go down to 400.

Transport

Each partner pays for the travelling of 'his' musician to the other country and of course back to his home country. The receiving partner will cover the transport for the musicians and band leader from the moment of the arrival of the musician in the partner's country.

The costs for transport of Sclavis and his clarinet will be covered by the receiving partner.

The costs for transport of a double bili program with another Sclavis band and his clarinet will be covered by the receiving partner.

Hotel/catering

Muzieklab Brabant will cover the costs for accommodation and meals for the musicians and the band leader for all nights of the rehearsals in Tilburg.

Each hosting partner will cover the costs for lodging the musicians and coach (if attending) for the night after the concert that this partner organizes.

Each partner guarantees a warm meal at the evening of the concert for the musicians, band leader (if attending), and - if asked for at least one week before the concert date - for visiting partners of Criss Cross Europe (1 person per organization). If it is not possible to arrange a meal at the concert place, the inviting partner will pay 15,00 EUR as equivalent of a warm meal to each musician.

If any of the partners attends a concert abroad and stays overnight in the city of the concert, he will pay for his own room and travel during his stay.

Communication and promotion

Muzieklab Brabant as a hosting partner for this year's edition will cover the costs for design of a flyer. Muzieklab Brabant will provide the graphic file for this flyer to all partners to print it.

The costs for the website www.crisscrosseurope.eu will be split equally between all partners.

-- Practical agreements --

Transport

Each partner is responsible for the travelling of 'his' musician to the rehearsals and concerts of the tour and back to his home country.

The receiving partner will help to organize the transport for each musician, the band leader from the moment of the arrival in the partner's country.

Each partner organizes the transport of the musicians and the band leader with the partner where the concert before took place.

Hotel/catering

Each partner will arrange a hotel for the musicians and coach (if attending) for the night after the concert that this partner organizes. The hotel will be paid by the host, i.e. the organizing partner of the concert.

As the rehearsals of this year's laboratory are hosted in Tilburg, Paradox, Muzieklab Brabant offers and pays the accommodation for the coach and musicians for all nights of the rehearsals in October.

Each partner guarantees a warm meal at the evening of the concert for the musicians and coach (if attending, and - if asked for at least one week before the concert date - for visiting partners of Criss Cross Europe (1 person per organization). If it is not possible to arrange a meal at the concert place, the inviting partner will pay 15,00 EUR as equivalent of a warm meal to each musician. Each partner should inform the hosts if there are special alimentary needs for his musician (vegetarian...).

If any of the partners attends a concert abroad and stays overnight in the city of the concert, he will pay for his own room and travel during his stay.

Technical rider

Each partner guarantees to foresee the necessary technical equipment and instruments that are needed for the concert. The technical specifications will be communicated to the other partners by Muzieklab Brabant during the week of the rehearsals.

Each partner guarantees that the concert will be organized in professional circumstances, with good lighting and an attentive public. If the bar is in the venue where the concert takes place, there will be no service while the concert takes place.

Promotion/communication/documentation

Every partner is free to record or videotape the Criss Cross Europe - laboratory under these conditions: Each partner undertakes to sign a contract with the musician acting as partner's representative, including a pledge to authorize partners to use the biographies and photos (provided by the musician) and to take photos and make audio and video recordings of rehearsals and concerts organized within the project, for project and partners' archives and advertising (fields of exploitation: recording and copying, including downloads to computers and other equipment, producing copies in any possible technology, in a freely chosen system or format on all possible carriers, including recording or displaying in paper publications and on websites of project and partners) in and outside partner's home country, for unlimited time.
